SUMMIT

Branson welcomed a new kind of nightlife experience in the heart of downtown. Summit bar and nightclub focuses on playing today's hits with DJ driven music. Think "where the mountains meet neon forest." A great place to meet, the bar lounge and dance club has just begun a new food journey with a menu designed around classic American Cuisine. Starting off with small-bites and some of your favorite appetizers, Summit aims to target the next generation of Branson visitors, with the 'wow' food and entertainment aspect being the main draw.

THE JERK SPOT

The Jerk Spot is 100% authentic Jamaican food offering large portions and reasonably priced meals. You are likely familiar with the faces that dazzle onstage; you see them on billboards around town and on colorful brochures to be found in many Branson businesses. While the magic of Branson's live shows seems to just happen, working within the details, you will find many passionate individuals who strive to create an unforgettable experience for each guest who steps into any of Branson's theatres. The duties carried out by these friendly individuals are crucial in ensuring the success of the live music show scene in Branson.

The excitement of the show begins before guests even take their seats. Justin "Salty" Saltonstall is the Box Office Manager at Grand Country Music Hall, overseeing the purchase of tickets and handling of season passes, concession stand operations, and group reservations to the shows. Having worked in Branson's live entertainment since he was a teen, Salty shares that from the moment someone walks into the theatre, he wants to make them happy. This starts with looking at the guest experience through their eyes and asking himself, "What would I want to experience as a showgoer?" His favorite part of his job is interacting with guests and having the privilege of creating an experience that he, himself, would want to repeat as a guest.

To many working within Branson's live entertainment industry, interacting directly with guests and building upon their excitement is where they truly shine. Born into a family of performers, eighteen-year-old Anna Presley of Presleys' Country Jubilee realized at a very young age that she prefers interacting with guests instead of being in front of them onstage. As a child, she was especially close with one of the theatre's ushers, Brenda, and began accompanying her in her responsibilities as an usher; this is how Anna learned that talking to people and making them feel at home is what she loves to do. She's noticed that when showgoers feel comfortable in the theatre, they feel more relaxed and "free to laugh."

Once it's showtime, those working within the backstage operations put into motion all that they've rehearsed to perfection. Matt Noll, Deck Chief at Branson's Sight & Sound Theatre, oversees the deck crew, audio team, lighting, and wardrobe, and he serves as the point of contact between the various departments to ensure that the show runs smoothly. Sight & Sound Theatre is known for their excellently produced retellings of Bible stories, complete with sets that invite you into the scene by adding live animals and enormous props. He states that his team's goal while the curtain's up is for the audience to "not even know [we] exist." One of Matt's favorite parts of his job is maneuvering and placing the "toys" – the magnificent props and sets – which include remote-controlled set pieces sometimes the size of a three- or four-story building. Although he does not work directly with guests any longer, he shared that he often hears how much the stories told by Sight & Sound impact those who experience these innovative performances.

The lasting effects of Branson's shows can be largely attributed to the passion of those who work within the theatres—both onstage and in the details. Salty with Grand Country speaks highly of the work culture of the theatre and the resort as a whole: "It truly is a family." He shared that everyone who works there cares for one another; and for him, that has been evident in many capacities.

No matter where life takes young Anna Presley, she says that her family's theatre will always have a place in her heart. Planning to pursue a degree that allows her to grow in her writing, Anna would like to utilize her creative talents to further the theatre in the future—though not sure how just yet, she is determined to find a way.

The work of those in the front of house or even “behind the curtain” demonstrates the passion of these individuals—passion for what they do, the people they meet, and the overall experience that guests have within their theatre. Their roles intertwine so beautifully with the work of those onstage, creating the most authentic and dazzling guest experiences that turn first-time guests into regulars.

DINNER and a Show

In Branson, you don't have to choose between entertaining shows and delicious home-style cooking.
Enjoy the best of both worlds with these popular dinner show favorites.

DOLLY PARTON'S STAMPEDE

Enjoy a dinner show like no other. Dolly Parton's Stampede features beautiful horses completing stunts like leaping through a ring of fire, paired with entertaining wagon races, pig races and special effects – all in a 35,000 sq. ft. arena.

Enjoy a four-course meal with an individual rotisserie chicken, hickory smoked pork loin, creamy vegetable soup, baked potato, corn on the cob, biscuit and an apple turnover. Vegetarian options are also available. All meals should be eaten with your hands (much to the delight of kids and the young-at-heart). During the Christmas season (November – December), enjoy a holiday spectacular featuring a live nativity scene with camels, elves, dancing toys and more.

HUGHES BROTHERS COUNTRY DINNER SHOW

Hughes Brothers Country Dinner Show, starring the popular Hughes Brothers, revisits over 25 years of fan favorites during this fast-paced show. From classic country to country western with a little bit of Broadway, patriotic tunes, glorious gospel, and a lot of fun, the Hughes Brothers – Marty, Jason, Ryan, and Andy – deliver rich harmonies and some fancy toe-tappin' fun! Every show includes a delicious meal of pulled pork, real country beans, sides, and beverages.

A TRIBUTE TO GEORGE STRAIT

Gordy and Debbie Wensel decided to put together this show at Jackie B. Goode's Uptown Café after getting many requests to play more George Strait music. When you hear Gordy sing some of Strait's classic hits, you'll understand why. Debbie has a number of great performances as a tribute to many of the female singers who have performed with Strait. During the show, enjoy a delicious meal featuring prime rib (the popular favorite), country fried steak, jumbo fried shrimp or Hawaiian chicken served with salad, iced tea and an ice cream sundae.

WHODUNNIT HOEDOWN MURDER MYSTERY DINNER SHOW

Shepherd of the Hills is offering a brand new murder mystery show to Branson visitors.

Prepare to laugh and marvel at this thrilling performance. For dinner, enjoy a bacon-wrapped pork chop, herb-roasted chicken, grilled corn on the cob, cherry cobbler and more!

SHOWBOAT BRANSON BELLE

Experience a three-course meal with beautiful lake views and fun entertainment – all onboard a nineteenth-century-style riverboat. The Branson Belle takes you on a two-hour journey across Table Rock Lake for lunch or dinner. They offer a wide variety of delicious, hearty meals for guests based on the package purchased.

While dining, you'll be treated to a variety show featuring music, magic, dancing, comedy and more. If you're looking for something extra, try The Paddle Wheel Club Room, a private dining experience with lake views, a tour of the boat and priority seating in the balcony after your meal. Vegetarian options available on request.

BRANSON MURDER MYSTERY

This live dinner show and performance will satisfy your appetite while making you laugh out loud. You will feel like part of the plot as you walk through this intriguing murder mystery.

OZARK MOUNTAIN Christmas

If it's November 1, it's time for Ozark Mountain Christmas, a spectacular two-month Christmas celebration filled with lights, music and joy. Branson's lineup of Christmas events is truly something to behold, with celebrations (and lights) at literally every turn.

Branson's star performers are ready to share the holidays with you and your family. The last two months of each year, many of the live music shows convert to Christmas versions of their productions.

With dazzling costuming and sets, Branson's entertaining families celebrate the reason for the season in song and dance. There's no better way to get in the holiday spirit than by enjoying a Branson Christmas show. From country music to Broadway-style productions, pop songs to Christmas carols, Branson's lineup of live performances offers a wide variety of holiday entertainment, and you'll leave each show feeling nothing but merry!

Silver Dollar City's "An Old Time Christmas" event features the largest concentration of lights in Branson ... 6.5 million, to be exact (That's nearly 700 miles of lights!). Visitors can stroll among the twinkling lights while enjoying live holiday shows at the park, including "Home for Christmas," a Broadway-style production. The Frisco Silver Dollar Sing-Along Steam Train takes passengers on a 20-minute musical journey complete with the story of Jesus's birth. A brilliant light parade also winds its way through the streets of Silver Dollar City twice each night. And guests can enjoy holiday culinary offerings that run the gamut from root beer-glazed ham to freshly churned peppermint ice cream. Awarded #1 "Best Theme Park Holiday Event" for five years by USA Today/10Best readers' poll.

Take the family to one of the drive-through light displays: Branson's Lights of Joy will be shining super LED bright with hundreds of scenes featured, near Sight & Sound Theatres; Let There Be Lights at Promised Land Zoo is the largest drive-through display in the Ozarks and has a Living Nativity with real live animals; celebrate the season at Shepherd of the Hill's North Pole Adventure, a walk-through experience that takes you through thousands of twinkling lights, visit Santa and his reindeer, see lights all over the Ozarks from Inspiration Tower, ride on Rudolph's Hayride, and more.

The 74th Adoration Parade takes place on Sunday, December 4 at dusk. Branson celebrates keeping Christ in Christmas on this special night. With the lighting of the Adoration scene atop Mt. Branson, it is an overwhelming outpouring of love from our community as we come together to honor the story of Jesus' birth.

With more than 1,500 Christmas trees throughout the destination in 2021, Branson's "Be The Light," community Christmas tree was adorned with nearly 10,000 genuine cut crystals and more than 20,000 lights. Donated by Branson Centennial Museum and Aquarium at the Boardwalk, the Austrian crystals were originally part of a magnificent chandelier that hung in the theatre lobby of The Grand Palace (which has since transformed into the aforementioned aquarium). Located in the heart of Branson's Entertainment District, alongside the Branson Ferris Wheel and a seasonal Holidays on Ice Skating Rink. Along with an annual sparkling centerpiece tree, visitors can expect to see up to 60 landmark trees around town. A whopping 1,000 decorated Christmas trees are all around the celebrated Silver Dollar City theme park.

Holidays remind us of the importance of preserving history and time-honored family traditions. At the Shepherd of the Hills Homestead, A Shepherd's Christmas Carol does just that. While the audience indulges in a full turkey dinner and pumpkin dessert, a true Christmas classic starring your favorite characters from the Shepherd of the Hills Outdoor Drama happens right before your very eyes.

If New Year's Eve requires a resolution to start on a memorable note, Branson has a variety of entertainment options that are family-friendly. But if you're wanting a romantic getaway with your special someone, we have that, too. There are plenty of shows taking the stage each December 31 in Branson.

Branson has received quite a few holiday accolades over the years: Named one of the best Christmas destinations in America by NBC's Today Show (Best Holiday Travel Deal), USA Today, Travel Channel, Fodor's, Pioneer Woman, FOX News, Esquire, AARP, Forbes, Yahoo and Oprah are just a few.

MAKE A SPLASH

Do you dream of sun, sparkling waters and sunscreen-soaked days at the lake? Head to Table Rock, Taneycomo or Bull Shoals to dive into a world of watersports, world-class fishing and boating designed to suit every style. These pristine lakes are easily accessible, and visitors can even choose to stay at luxurious lakeside resorts, house rentals or well-equipped campgrounds. But no matter where you choose to check-in, the lake offers many activities to check out.

Head to State Park Marina, where you can find a huge variety of rentals, including boats, wave runners, slips and even bicycles and fishing supplies. The premier slide boat is a favorite among families and comes with a double-decker slide to launch users into the lake. Or maybe you'd like to rent a ski boat and feel it roar to life for an adrenaline-pumping day of waterskiing, wakeboarding, and kneeboarding.

You're also able to rent canoes and paddle boats, but if you prefer to sit back and enjoy the ride, you can sign up for boat tours that come with a USCG-licensed captain to ferry you around the lake before returning safely to shore. For a relaxing and rejuvenating activity that tests your physical prowess while boosting your inner-self, ask the State Park Marina about paddleboarding. While it may provide a full-body workout, you'll be too entranced by the serenity of your surroundings and the soft dip of your paddle in the water to notice. This is one of the few watersports that requires little to no training, just good balance (although classes and tours are still the best way to master the craft), and that welcomes participants of all ages.

TAKE THE PATHS LESS TRAVELED

The vast wilderness of the Ozarks has beckoned explorers for generations, with each new wave carving out paths that would become beloved trails and campgrounds.

The Branson area offers more than 200 miles of these trails, perfect for hiking, biking and even horseback riding. They stretch across a collection of publicly accessible city, state and federal forests, as well as parks and conservations, like the 1,574-acre Ruth and Paul Henning Conservation Area that draws in wildlife lovers from around the country. You'll have your pick of terrains, be it river or lakeside, grassy knolls, shaded forests or rocky hillsides. There are even caves to (carefully) explore, should you feel like trying your hand at spelunking. No matter your skill level, hikers and cyclists will appreciate the wide variety of trails available.

You can find flat, paved paths—like the 2.2-mile Table Rock Lakeshore Trail—that allow for even the smallest cyclists to enjoy the beauty of the outdoors. Perhaps you'll take on a rugged mountain bike adventure in the White River Valley. Or maybe you'll don your trusted backpack and hiking boots and set off on the popular Piney Creek and Hercules Glades Wilderness trails.

Up on Wolfe Mountain, you can even plan to add some zip to your trip and soar through the wilderness with Branson Zipline Canopy Tours. The choice is yours, and the possibilities are nearly endless.

THE GLADES OR “BALDS,” AS LOCALS CALL THEM, PLAYED AN IMPORTANT ROLE IN THE HISTORY AND FOLKLORE OF THE REGION. BECAUSE POST-CIVIL WAR VIGILANTE GROUPS OFTEN MET ON THE BALDS, THEY BECAME KNOWN AS “BALDKNOBBERS.”

LET'S PLAY GOLF

MOUNTAIN TOP GOLF COURSE

TOP OF THE ROCK GOLF COURSE

WORLD-CLASS GOLF

Branson has earned distinction as one of the finest golf destinations in North America. With 10 courses – including five of the state’s top 10 and two that are nationally ranked – it has become a must-visit place to play.

Five courses have been added in the past several years, including Tiger Woods’ first public design (Payne’s Valley). An amenity of Big Cedar Lodge, home to four other courses, it ends with an unforgettable bang. Called The Big Rock, the bonus 19th hole is surrounded by towering limestone walls, cascading waterfalls, and an island green.

While brand-new Payne’s Valley commands the most attention due to Woods’ involvement, Ozarks National (Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw design), Buffalo Ridge (Tom Fazio), Branson Hills (Chuck Smith with Bobby Clampett), and LedgeStone (Tom Clark) are wonderful 18-hole layouts.

Two short courses – Audubon certified Top of the Rock (Jack Nicklaus) and Mountain Top (Gary Player) – are incredibly fun courses complementing the 18-holers.

Visitors enjoy Branson’s golf destination for its variety of courses close to one another, and its array of price points, design styles, and the terrain on which courses unfurl.

Perhaps the reason why Branson has become one of the most popular golf destinations is its after-golf offerings. Three lakes, hundreds of restaurants, live entertainment theatres, family attractions, and more provide something special for everyone’s preference.

THAT'S EDU-TAINMENT!

Got a frown? It's about to get turned upside down! As is everything at WonderWorks, Branson's brand-new amusement park for the mind. There's no way you can miss it — just look for an honest-to-goodness upside-down museum (with stately white columns, no less) filled with more than 48,000 square feet of patented "edu-tainment."

Once you emerge from the inversion tunnel, you'll find that everything has flipped right side up, and you're ready to explore. But be sure to keep your eyes wide open — with more than 100 hands-on and interactive exhibits, you'll want to see each and every one. Strap in to experience weightlessness at the Astronaut Training Gyro, or enter the Hurricane Shack to feel the rush of 80 mph winds.

You can also visit an XD theater rich in special effects and full-motion seating or wander the Wonder Art Gallery, where optical illusions come to life.

“WHEN YOU ENTER THE BUILDING, EVERYTHING WILL BE UPSIDE-DOWN, SO IN ORDER TO PARTICIPATE IN THE FUN, YOU MUST STEP INSIDE THE INVERSION TUNNEL AND BE TURNED RIGHT SIDE UP!”

WHERE TO STAY

Hotels or motels? Cabins or cottages? Condos or campgrounds? Planning a trip with your family or friends but don't know how to pick the best lodging for your stay?

When you're choosing an accommodation for your vacation, there are many aspects to consider. The place where you stay on your trip can make or break your vacation, so it is imperative that you get the right lodging for your needs. Branson's diverse lodging options include more than 16,500 units in four-star resorts, national-brand hotels, independent family-owned inns and lakeside lodging, nightly rental cabins and condos, vacation homes and more.

Looking at booking a hotel or motel, you should consider not only the best deal available, but also one with all the amenities you need for a comfortable and secure stay. Budget plays an important role in where you stay during the trip and, fortunately, Branson is a great vacation value. You can book a hotel or motel online and read hotel reviews as well as check out the photos to help make a good decision for your family. A cabin or cottage is a good alternative if you want privacy. You'll find options ranging from rustic log cabins to luxurious lodges or even a treehouse. Renting a cabin gives you a front-row seat for nature's amazing show in the Ozarks.

If you have time to spend a couple of weeks in the Ozarks, and need to make food yourself, you can go for a rental condo with a well-equipped kitchen and plenty of space to spread out. Condos make a great choice for families or a group here for a longer visit. Or bring your own living room on wheels and park the RV at one of the dozens of campgrounds.

A comfortable accommodation during your trip is one of the best parts of an enjoyable and memorable vacation.

If you want to find complete information about all the lodging options in and around Branson, go to www.ExploreBranson.com/lodging

Experiencing live entertainment, exciting family fun and memorable outdoor adventure in Branson, Mo.

As a travel enthusiast, I am excited at the thought of exploring new grounds and seeing a brand-new sight. Despite traveling somewhere new and unfamiliar for pleasure, it's a personal goal of mine to find fresh ways to enjoy the city I live in. It's riveting to see what makes a top tourism destination tick; what it's really like to be a part of the community. To the world, Branson is an unmatched vacation destination offering world-class live music shows, thrilling outdoor adventure and unending family fun. I'm inviting you to step into Branson like a true insider. I'll share the 'inside' scoop you may not know.

One of the first questions Branson locals get asked is what show you should see, and while there are unending entertainment options, it truly depends on what you're interested in. From tribute and variety to bluegrass, rock and roll, family groups and more; Branson has something for everyone. If you have trouble deciding which show to attend, you can count on locals to point you in the right direction when making reservations.

Get a taste of local flavor at some of Branson's staple restaurants. For breakfast, start healthy at Revive Juice Company with a smoothie or sit down to a full traditional breakfast with options like buttermilk pancakes and eggs benedict at Clockers Café or Billy Gail's. When lunchtime hits, Sugar Leaf Bakery, Café & Espresso has a great selection of salads and sandwiches but be sure to leave room for one of their scrumptious bakery items for dessert.. Get dressed up for dinner at Top of the Rock's Osage restaurant where you and your friends will enjoy sweeping views of the Ozark Mountains. At dusk you can watch the sunset ceremony, complete with bagpipe and the firing of a Civil War cannon.

If your palate craves a bit more caffeine, locals know where to take a connoisseur. Vintage Paris located in Hollister, Mo. is notorious for trying to beat what they predict will be the next wave of coffee: blends. One of their lead roasters says, "we have specifically designed a few blends in-shop that you can't get anywhere else. You can go anywhere in the world and get a Columbia, and it will taste great, like a Columbia should. But you can't go anywhere in the world and get a Le Chat Noir House Blend or a Maison House Blend, because we're the only ones who know how to create those. Branson is trying to beat the trends."

Shopping is usually high on the list of priorities for visitors, but what locals know that most travelers don't is that name brands at discount prices are available all year round at our Tanger Outlets. As a small community, Branson locals pride themselves on supporting local businesses in our Historic Downtown. And while you're out and about, be on the lookout for colorful murals painted by local artists. Some iconic selfie stops are the BRANSON mural located near the tall Hilton and murals in each level of the Branson Landing/Hilton Promenade parking garage.

During the summer, locals know activities from boating, paddleboarding, fishing, and more can be done on three pristine lakes, Table Rock, Taneycomo, and Bulls Shoals. Table Rock Lake can also be accessed at the Dewey Short Visitor Center. Here you can take a dip in the water without a boat, enjoy a picnic or take a walk on the path leading to the Showboat Branson Belle.

What makes our community unique is the residents are also entertainers, business owners, show ushers, attraction and roller coaster operators, musicians, singers, dancers, fishing guides, restaurant servers, and so much more. No matter how you choose to enjoy your vacation here, you will most likely bump into a local helping make our destination one you can't wait to visit again.

A Guide to the Best Branson Vacation

Noell and Daniel Jett, along with their four children, make up “The Jett Set” – a beautiful family with an incredible following. Together, they’ve inspired millions across the internet with their blog, jettsetfarmhouse.com, which chronicles the incredible journey of designing and building their own dream home in St. Augustine, Florida.

The Jettets have welcomed a loyal tribe of followers along for the adventure, showcasing every step of the process from blueprints to bedspreads and everything in between. It’s no surprise that along the way, their followers fell in love with their adorable family and Noell found herself crossing over into a lifestyle content creator, gaining over 3 million followers on TikTok. Her interests aren’t limited to just home design, however. Noell and her family post about their daily lives including recipes, projects and, you guessed it, vacations.

Hailing from just up the road in Springfield, Missouri, Noell grew up with Branson in her backyard, making many fond memories here. Now, as a mom to four young ones herself, she’s excited to share a little of the magic with her own family and bring her dedicated fan base along for the ride.

We sat down with Noell on a recent visit to Branson to see what she thinks really makes for the best family vacation in Branson from a visitor’s perspective.

What is your favorite Branson memory growing up? Is it something you've recreated with your kids?

While my parents were incredibly hard-working, we grew up in poverty. We did not have family vacations or educational trips across America. We spent our weekends chopping wood & picking stone rather than exploring national parks. But almost every year, mainly thanks to the sweet old man in our church or my aunt, who both worked at Silver Dollar City, we somehow found a way to go to Silver Dollar City at Christmas! I'll never forget the enchanted feeling I had as I walked around, smelling funnel cakes and hot chocolate, lost in the beauty of the Christmas lights that covered almost every surface! As I grew up and moved to Florida, somehow, my path always found its way back to Silver Dollar City at Christmastime and as I began having children of my own, I loved seeing the excitement in their eyes when they saw the Christmas lights for the first time! As each of them became tall enough, Fire in the Hole became their favorite ride, though now the older girls would much rather spend their time seeing how many times they can ride Powder Keg and Outlaw Run in one night! Seeing them truly love a place that brought me so much hope and joy as a child, brings so much happiness to my soul and I know Branson and SDC will be a part of our families' Christmas traditions for many years yet to come.

What makes a vacation truly memorable to you? Why do you feel like it's important for your family?

I never got to experience family vacations as a child, so when Daniel and I began our family, we made it a priority to spend as much time as possible exploring and spending time with our kids. We love disconnecting from the craziness of our schedules and focus on spending quality time sharing experiences and discovering new things with our kids. It's not always about going to an amazing new destination, sometimes it's as simple as visiting relatives in another state for a week, it's more about the memories you create when you intentionally spend time focusing on your family and finding joy in time together.

Let's talk shows. What's your favorite one so far? Which one do your kids love?

We are obsessed with Dolly Parton's Stampede! Even my youngest sits on the edge of his seat the entire time, stomping his little feet as hard as he can! We also love Sight & Sound, it's a great experience for the family!

If you could pick one meal to suggest to another family on their next trip to Branson, what would that meal be?

As a couple, Osage restaurant at Top of the Rock. For a family, we went two different times to Flaming Margaritas. Their Mexican food was on point. Of course, Billy Gail's is a must for breakfast. Be prepared to wait for a table but I promise it's worth it!

When you're looking for a place to make your home-away-from-home, what stands out to you?

A rental home that offers all the comforts of home but also enough extras to make it fun. As a mom, things like a well-stocked kitchen and a washer/dryer are very important to me. The kids love having ping pong, foosball, and board games to play and my husband loves a nice hot tub to relax in.

So it may be too cold for lake activities on this trip, but during warmer parts of the year, Branson is known for its three incredible lakes. What's your favorite lake memories from previous trips?

I spent most of my childhood on Lake Taneycomo. Fishing, swimming, boating, we loved living so close to the lake!

I know that Daniel is a golfer and that you have spent some time out at Top of the Rock and Big Cedar Lodge. What's his favorite course in the area and why?

He LOVES Top of the Rock! Though we live in the World Golf Village in Florida, meaning we have amazing golf courses surrounding us, he loves the elevations, views and challenges Top of the Rock offers.

If you could give one piece of advice for a mom planning a family trip to Branson for the first time, what would it be?

Relax and enjoy yourself! One thing I love about Branson is that it entertains all generations. We had four generations with us this last trip and we all had a blast! The Aquarium at the Boardwalk & Fritz's Adventure are fun for all ages while Cedar Creek Spa and Top of the Rock will allow you some alone time or time with your spouse. Branson is not just a place you visit once and cross it off your bucket list, it's a place you visit over and over again, building family memories that will last through the generations.

A huge thank you to Noell and Daniel Jett for spending some time walking us through their guide to the best Branson vacation. Thank you to RentBranson.com for hosting the Jett family. HISTORIC
DOWNTOWN

Praxson

Historic Downtown Branson is where Branson got its start around 1888. Incorporated in 1912, fires and floods would not keep this community from growing. Branson is known for its many live shows and downtown is home to the Owen Theatre, now headquarters of the Branson Arts Council. It was the first theatre in town, constructed in 1934. The 1906 railroad depot has Branson Scenic Railway, with picturesque rides through the Ozarks countryside in authentic 1950s luxury passenger cars.

A variety of affordable shops, galleries and stores are all within an easy stroll. Free trolley rides offer an excursion through historic downtown with the flavor of an old-time Main Street. You will also find live entertainment, Ozarks crafts, great shopping and choices of restaurants offering homemade meals, eclectic fine dining at Level 2 Steakhouse at the Hilton Convention Center Hotel and the down-home atmosphere of the 110-year-old Branson Café.

There are dozens of “mom and pop” stores offering unique merchandise. Dick’s 5 & 10, a Branson landmark, has been in their location for more than 60 years. This one-of-a-kind, family-owned and operated store offers hours of shopping and browsing through more than 75,000 items.

Start at the Branson Centennial Museum for your walking tour information. Down the street, Liberty Plaza is located at the corner of Veterans Blvd. (Bus. U.S. 65) and Pacific St. There you will find a large public restroom, plenty of parking and a performance stage. The native stone fountain has the Branson logo – great for selfies – as is the Branson mural on Sycamore Street.

THE Magic IN A mural

The best vacations are the ones that are full of once-in-a-lifetime memories, and no vacation is complete without capturing the moments that make up those memories. From Instagram stories to Facebook posts, and even Grandma's old photo album collection, vacation photos always hold a special place in visitors' hearts.

Branson not only offers typical tourist photo sites, such as posing in King Kong's hand or pre-show green screen souvenir photos, but is also home to a large variety of murals all around town. These art pieces range from historical paintings to ones that show the beauty of Branson. Take a closer look into the lives of the muralists who have painted some of the most famous artwork in town.

The newest mural in Branson is located on the side of the Aquarium at the Boardwalk. It was painted by the talented John Pugh, who attended California State University Chico in 1983 and received the Distinguished Alumni Award in 2003. He was also named the Master Muralist from Precita Eyes Mural Art Center and the Most Successful Mural Artist from the California Mural Symposium. Pugh began painting the Aquarium at the Boardwalk mural in 2020 and it took 6 months to complete. He explains that this particular mural was challenging because he had to create "an underwater scene that's convincing from the outside of the building." Pugh states that he did not want the octopus to look like he was trying to escape from the aquarium, but rather wanted the mural to depict "his intelligent and curious reaction to the new perspective of his world shift[ing]." Pugh had been wanting to work with Tej Sundher and the other owners of the Aquarium for many years. Make sure to check it out the next time you are in the Entertainment District. To learn more about John Pugh, visit his website at www.artofjohnpugh.com

Though many of Branson's murals are in places that are easy to see, this is not always the case. The Branson Landing Parking Garage is home to four hidden murals. These art pieces were painted by Chrisara Designs, who are twin sisters named Christa Schmitz Tiggermann and Sara Schmitz Olson. Every mural was intentionally placed on each of the four floors. “The first floor was the obvious choice to paint the state outline of Missouri with the star indicating Branson on the map to seem inviting. The second floor, “Branson Vibes” was to give you the sense that you were in a lake town and to leave your stress behind. The third floor, “Fish Chaos” was done to look like a crazy wallpaper full of fish and to honor all the fishermen in our area. The fourth floor, “Hi There” was done “as a sweet surprise for anyone who may venture to the top floor of the garage.” Sara explains. They hope that their fun and colorful murals will give visitors a surprise when coming to the Branson Landing. For more information on Chrisara Designs, check out their website at www.chrisaradesigns.com

Once you leave the Branson Landing, head to the corner of Main and Sycamore streets. On the side of Cadwell’s Flea Market is the most famous mural in Branson: The ExploreBranson Postcard painting. Painted by Raine Clotfelter in 2016, he is a Branson local and has always been interested in art from a young age. He joined the Navy right after high school and started training to become an illustrator draftsman. Later, he continued to pursue art by painting for Disney and became a staff artist for Columbia Pictures Entertainment. Clotfelter is based out of Branson and loves to share his talents with the entire nation, travelling near and far to paint murals. The ExploreBranson Postcard Mural has become one of the most photographed locations in the town and was designed to look like a vintage “Greetings from Branson” postcard. Make sure to snap a photo in front of it or one of his many other murals in Branson. For more information on Raine Clotfelter, check out his website at www.americasmuralist.com

As you are capturing your memories on your next Branson vacation, make sure to post them on Instagram, use the hashtag #ExploreBranson for a chance to be featured on the city’s tourism website – www.ExploreBranson.com.

FLAMING MARGARITAS

If you're looking for a way to truly experience your meal, Flaming Margaritas may be just the place for you. Relatively new to the dining-scape in Branson, their authentic menu is full of dishes that pack a flavorful punch and offer a unique presentation experience. As the name suggests, they're known for their various "flaming margaritas" such as the Top Shelf Traditional or the Ocean Champagne Margarita, all of which are served on fire!

Flaming Margaritas has a passion for delicious food made the right way; using time-tested recipes and only the freshest ingredients.

The owner, Sam, has an interesting backstory. He came to work over the summer in Branson from Turkey. As a server at another restaurant in town, he quickly fell in love with the area and the people he served. At the end of that summer, he decided to remain in Branson instead of returning to Turkey. He quickly got to work and learned all he could about Mexican cuisine and culture from his friends, studying under them to learn their methods and recipes. Less than a year and a half later, he opened his very own Mexican restaurant, Flaming Margaritas.
